The Search for the Train Robbers a Failure.

EX-SENATOR SARGENT BURIED

Mackay Speaks of the Nevada Bank's Financial Standing. —The Train-Wreckers

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

TUCSON, Ariz., August 16—There are no new developments in the train robbery case to-day. All the officers and pursuing parties have come in and the Indian trailers have gone back to Yuma. A thorough inspection of the cave failed to reveal anything of importance, although it was dug over to the depth of a foot. It has been occupied a long time.

A POINT OF VANTAGE.

From the mouth of the cave a person can see anyone approaching miles away. There seems to be no doubt that the robbers returned to the cave after the robbery, but seeing the sheriff's posse, made good their escape. Another posse, is being made up here composed of men well acquainted with the country. All the officers seem convinced that the robbery was done by two men with nickel-plated pistols and with no other arms.

"DUST TO DUST."

Ex-Senator Sargent's Remains Interred Yesterday.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 16.—The funeral services over the remains of ex-Senator Sargent were held this afternoon at his late residence, none but intimate friends of the family being in attendance. Rev. D. A. Dryden, of Gilroy, an old and warm friend of the family, conducted the services and delivered the sermon. At the conclusion of the services the remains were conveyed to Laurel Hill cemetery and temporarily placed in the vault of Judge Sawyer, he having kindly placed it at the disposal of the bereaved family until the place of the final interment of the ex-Senator is determined upon.

THE PALL-BEARERS.

The following gentlemen acted as pall-bearers: Justice Field, of the United States Supreme Court; Judge Sawyer, of the United States Circuit Court; Chief Justice Niles Searls, of the State Supreme Court; Ex-United States Sub-Treasurer W. W. Spalding, Mayor W. B. Hooper, George Barrington, Congressman W. W. Morrow and Frank N. Stone.

THE NEVADA BANK.

Mackay Says that it was not Hurt by the Wheat Deal.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 16—With reference to the rumors that J. W. Mackay and J. C. Flood individually and as the principal owners of the Nevada Bank have lost heavily in the late wheat deal, Mackay is reported in an evening paper as saying: "The Nevada Bank is not in any way crippled by the wheat deal which I am told has been raising such ructions out here. Neither Mr. Flood nor myself—and we two own the Nevada Bank—have ever in our lives had one dollar invested in wheat speculations. It is true, however, that we have loaned our money upon wheat and if the parties to whom we loaned this money should not be able to pay it back, we shall have to stand the loss."

JUVENILE TRAIN-WRECKERS.

A Capture Which Probably Prevented a Fearful Catastrophe.

EL PASO, Tex., August 16.—Repeated attempts have been made in the lower part of this county to derail passenger trains running on the tracks of the Texas and Pacific and Southern Pacific roads by placing obstructions in the shape of large rocks and crossties on the tracks.

OFFICERS PLACED ON WATCH.

The railway officials placed a deputy United States Marshal and two assistants near the scene of the attempted devilment, who kept a close watch, and yesterday they saw three Mexican boys, none of them over 16 years old, creep from the bush and begin to pile stones and iron on the track in large quantities.

THEIR WORK INTERRUPTED.

When they had about finished their work, the officers emerged from their hiding place and seized them. The boys were badly scared, and confessed their crime. The were brought here and placed in jail.

PROBABLY FOR PLUNDER.

They are from Socorro, a small town in this county. They refused to say what was their purpose in wrecking the trains, but it is generally believed that it was for plunder.

TWO MEN KILLED.

Latest Report of the Newton Ranch Shooting Affair.

TUCSON, Ariz., June 16.—Later particulars of the shooting at Newton's Ranch, in Pleasant valley, 65 miles north of Globe, on the 9th, state that John Tane and Hamp Blevins were killed and Thomas Tucker, R. Mr. Cohen said that he thought that when the Central Pacific made out its case it would be able to satisfy the commission in all the particulars of the contract with the Contract and Finance Committee.

Secretary Miller presented a statement of the land grant bonds, which showed that $10,000,000 worth were issued, from which $8,640,000 was realized. The total amount redeemed from this issue was $5,563,000, leaving $4,437,000 outstanding.

TOMBSTONE, August 16.—The Tombstone Prospector says: "Carmen Mendibles, who is confined in the county jail for the murder of Thomas Salcido, at Fairbank, in March last, is a native of Sonora, Mexico. In the family are five or six boys all named Carmen, the only distinction made being that one is called Carmen 1st, another Carmen 2d, and so on. Carmen 1st was shot, Carmen 2d was hung and now Carmen 3d is on the road to meet the same fate. It is said that the sire of the Carmen family was the murderer himself, having killed his wife with an ax. Mendibles had a hearing yesterday and was bound over to await the action of the grand jury.

INDIAN INSURGENTS.

Kendall's Command in a Dangerous Position.

AN APPEAL FOR ASSISTANCE.

Cavalry Ordered to the Scene of Action—Disquieting Reports From San Carlos.

Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.

DENVER, Col., August 16.—A Glenwood special to the Times says: Van Clief, the courier whom General West sent out to find Sheriff Kendall, arrived this morning, having ridden from Kendall's camp, near Thornburg, the battle-ground in less than thirteen hours, a distance of 105 miles. Forty of Kendall's men weakened and deserted him, leaving only fifteen men. He is greatly reduced and worn out and is working toward Meeker for reinforcements.

A MISSING MESSENGER.

Van Clief says that Harry Goff started out five hours ahead of him for Meeker with a message. He has not arrived, and it is feared he has fallen in with the Utes.

THE UTES ADVANCING.

The messenger says that the Utes are coming up from the reservation.

APPLICATION FOR ASSISTANCE.

A messenger has also been dispatched to Fort Duchesne for cavalry. Two messengers who arrived from Meeker yesterday will return this morning with a message to Kendall that reinforcements would be forthcoming. None of Kendall's men were killed, but one had a horse shot from under him. The greatest excitement prevails.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

A special to the Republican from Rawlins, Wyo., says: A messenger from White River has just arrived and reports that about 150 Utes are fighting at Beaver creek, fifteen miles from Meeker. Families are rushing into Meeker, and more Indians are coming. The country is all on fire below Meeker's between White and Bear rivers.

PREPARING TO MARCH.

One hundred mounted men are ready and will march on the Utes under command of C. E. Blydenberg. The ladies are busy making bandages and the town is thoroughly excited.

THE GOVERNOR PETITIONED.

Governor Adams this afternoon received a telegram from Adjutant-General West, at Glenwood Springs, containing an appeal from Sheriff Kendall for assistance.

HIS REPLY.

In response to this, the governor ordered the cavalry companies at Denver, Colorado Springs, Cañon City, Leadville and Aspen to start for the front at once. They leave for the seat of war to-night at 8 o'clock.

CROOK INFORMED.

The governer also telegraphed to General Crook at Omaha that the situation is becoming serious and urged the War Department to protect the settlers. The fact that Kendall has had several skirmishes with the Indians since last Thursday, and has been deserted by part of his men, and is now left in a dangerous position, without food and ammunition, shows that serious results may occur, unless prompt action is taken by the State militia.

ARIZONA ADVICES.

San Pedro Indians Leave Their Reservation.

TOMBSTONE, Ariz., August 16.—Reports from Mammoth Camp, on the Lower San Pedro, says: The Indians of the Eskiminzin, Pachine and Segelias bands have all left their lands on the river and gone into the mountains. They have taken their families and all their effects, and settlers say that they are bent on mischief. They planted no crops this year, and will probably rely upon plunder for subsistence.

RAVAGES REPORTED.

About ten miles east of Saddle Mountain a vaquero counted 150 head of cattle killed by the Indians. Nearly all the settlers have suffered losses to a greater extent than they are willing to acknowledge. As these Indians are off the reservation, and have heretofore depended upon their own industries for support, their misdeeds bring them clearly under the sole jurisdiction of the civil law.

ASSURING STATEMENTS.

Other parties who have come from that section later, say that the Indians have returned to their farms from the mountains, where they gathered fruit and nuts and did a little hunting, but none of the settlers in the neighborhood are eager to go on their peace bonds, notwithstanding their friendly professions.

AT SAN CARLOS.

Trouble Expected on the Apache Reservation.

TUCSON, A. T., August 16.—News from the San Carlos reservation is of a threatening character. The Indians who committed the last depredations are still in jail in San Carlos and others on the reservation in sympathy, are evidently contemplating their rescue, which will bring about another outbreak and one of a serious nature.

A STRICT WATCH KEPT.

Guards are placed every night over the combustible property for fear that it will be burned. Grass and water being plentiful now, it would be a serious thing if the Indians should leave the reservation.

They Bid Too High.

WASHINGTON, August 16. — Bids which were invited for the repair of the marine barracks at Mare Island, Cal., have been found to be in excess of the appropriation, and further action has been postponed until next spring.

RAILROAD LANDS.

Another Important Decision by Secretary Lamar.

WASHINGTON, August 16.—The Secretary of the Interior is preparing a decision relating to the identity of the withdrawals of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. He reviews at some length the company's construction of the law. He will not concur in their views, and will hold that Congress recognized the political divisions of States and Territories, when it gave the company ten alternate odd numbered sections of land on each side of the line of road when it passes through a State and a twenty-mile section when it passes through a Territory.

LIEN LANDS DEFINED.

Lien land is but a substitute for granted land, and the same boundary lines applies to one as to the other. The same distinction is preserved in providing for an indemnity belt, less being allowed in States than in Territories. The Secretary will say that in his opinion, and according to the views herein expressed, the indemnity claims of the company must be greatly reduced, and it will not require all the vacant odd numbered sections within the indemnity limits, but that these would be lands to restore to the public domain.

ONLY ONE INDEMNITY BELT.

The Secretary will also hold that this company is entitled to but one indemnity belt of ten miles in width, and that the grant of July 30, 1870, reported and modified that of the first so far as they conflict, and that both acts relate to the same indemnity belt. These are the only points not covered by the decision of yesterday in the Atlantic and Pacific case.

NOTHING NEW.

The Inquiry into the Cause of the Chatsworth Wreck.

PEORIA, Ill., August 16.—The State Railroad and Warehouse Commission resumed their investigation of the Chatsworth wreck to-day. Superintendent Armstrong and several other officials of the road testified, but nothing important was developed.

AN UNFORTUNATE OVERSIGHT.

The only important testimony before the Coroner's jury to-day was that of John Taggart and William Heald, section men under Foreman Coughlan. The substance of their testimony went to show that when the gang quit work on Wednesday no effort was made to ascertain whether or not the fires which they had kindled were out on the ground in the vicinity of the bridge.

"KNOCKED OUT."

In thanking you also for the choice which you have made of Mr. Phelps to be the interpreter of your sentiments on this occasion, we request you to accept in return our best wishes for your own uninterrupted happiness and welfare, and for the prosperity of the United States of America, and so we recommend you to the protection of the Almighty.

Given at our court at Windsor Castle, on the 18th day of July, in the year of our Lord, 1887, and in the 51st year of our reign.

Your good friend.

(Signed) VICTORIA.

THE CITIZENS' CUP.

Another Yacht Race in the East—The Volunteer Wins.

NEW YORK, August 16.—The yacht race for the Citizens' cup was started this morning. The wind was light and the sea was smooth. The Volunteer and the Puritan crossed the line at nearly the same time, with the Mayflower a little behind. After the start the wind began to increase and came from the southeast. The race was over the Sow and Pigs course. The Atlantic was not entered.

THE VOLUNTEER AHEAD.

3:15 P. M.—The yachts are out of sight from here, but in full view of the West Islands. It is reported from there that the Puritan is leading.

AS USUAL.

The race was won by the Volunteer, which beat the Puritan by more than half an hour. The Mayflower was fifteen minutes behind the Puritan.

The Sachem won in the schooner class.

TRANSCONTINENTAL TRAFFIC.

The Pennsylvania Company Declines Pacific Coast Business.

CHICAGO, August 16.—A local paper says that notice has just been given that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company declines to accept its regular proportion of through rate on Pacific Coast business west-bound, if such rate is below the regular tariff. This means that they will not participate in the west-bound through rates that are less for a longer than for a shorter one. On east-bound California business they will take their proportion of whatever rate the Pacific Coast lines may make.

THEY FEARED PROSECUTION.

Their explanation for this action is that they are advised by their counsel that they would be liable under the Inter-State Commerce law to be prosecuted for making lower rates for a longer haul than for a shorter one. The responsibility for the violation of the law the companies' officials say rests with the initial company.

ACTION OF OTHER LINES.

The Baltimore and Ohio, Lake Shore and Grand Trunk and other eastern lines do not agree with the Pennsylvania road in this matter and have given notice that they will continue to accept their agreed proportions.

MILITARY MARKSMEN.

Present Status of the Target Contest at St. Paul.

BASE BALL.

The Detroit Nine in the Lead for Championship Honors.

CHICAGO, August 16.—Detroit goes East to-night one game in the lead in the championship race. Clarkson pitched again to-day, and with the exception of the fourth inning, when a fatal streak of batting struck by the Wolverines, was as formidable as ever. He was not well supported on the whole or the game would have resulted differently. The Detroit runs were well made in that one inning. Chicago scored one in the first and two in the eighth, which was all she could get, although two or three valuable opportunities were thrown away. Probably ten thousand people witnessed the game. Score: Chicago 3, Detroit 5.

PHILADELPHIA VS. WASHINGTON.

PHILADELPHIA, August 16—The Philadelphias won their third straight game from the Washingtons to-day. The afternoon was warm and the contest extended through ten innings. Ferguson reappeared with the home team, but was unable to do himself justice by reason of his recent injuries. The Philadelphias excelled both at the bat and in the field, but their hits were more wildly distributed than were those of the visitors. Score—Philadelphia 7, Washington 6.

BOSTON VS. NEW YORK.

BOSTON, August 16.—Welch pitched strongly to-day, and received brilliant support. Radbourne was in poor form, and the Athenians fielded in ragged fashion. The Gothamites knocked out four earned runs in the fourth and seventh innings, practically deciding the game. The umpiring was again disgraceful. Score: Boston, 3; New York, 8.

More, President of the California League, to suspend Peter Sweeney for one month without pay. Sweeney claimed that his error was accidental, but the President refused to allow the excuse.

Dunning of Owyhee county, Idaho. A boy nineteen years of age, name unknown, who fired on the sheriff in Vickers' defense, was also killed by the sheriff. The sheriff lodged three bullets in Vickers' brain and blew the top of the boy's head off at the first fire.

Short in His Accounts.

PITTSBURG, August 16.—United States District Attorney Allen has instituted a motion in the United States Court against Wm. A. Swan, of Wilkesbarre, Pa., and his bondsmen to recover $6000 for alleged deficiency in his returns while Indian Agent at the Cheyenne River Reservation, Dakota, in 1883 and 1884.

A New Man-of-War.

WASHINGTON, August 16.—Secretary Whitney has appointed a Board of five officers to examine the plans furnished by the Barrow Ship Building Company, of London, for the construction of a battle ship of about 8000 tons displacement authorized by Congress. The Board is to report the probable cost of the vessel.

DUNN UNDONE.

The Manhattan Bank Robbery Scandal Revived.

A NEW YORK MAN ARRESTED

And Charged with Being the Instigator of the Whole Affair—Scott's Story.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

NEW YORK, August 16.—Richard Seaman Scott, who absconded in 1885 with $160,000 belonging to the Manhattan Bank, in whose employ he had been for twenty years, and about whose disappearance and whereabouts there was such profound mystery, has made a confession before Consul General Waller at London.

THE AFFAIR NEARLY FORGOTTEN.

The story had almost died out of mind, but a suit has just been instituted in the Supreme Court which discloses not only Scott's action but also that he was not alone in the defalcation. This suit is against John R. Dunn, Scott's colleague, for the recovery of $140,000.

DUNN TO BLAME.

Affidavits of the absconder made in London show that Dunn is a bigger rascal than Scott, and that he was partly the cause of the latter's crime. He states that he had taken from the bank, prior to June, 1885, various small sums aggregating $10,000 and that about this time by reason of the change of officers, he feared that his shortage might be discovered, and Jno. R. Dunn, who is a cousin of his wife, was practicing law and to him Scott hastened for advice.

"TAKE THE WHOLE MILLION."

Dunn asked him how much money was within his reach. Scott said there was over $1,000,000 in his charge, and Dunn told him that he had better take the million and go to Canada. It would be enough to cripple the bank and compel them to comprise.

SCOTT STEALS THE CASH.

He further advised Dunn about disguising himself, and how to correspond with him (Dunn) from Canada. On the next day Scott took $300,000 from the bank in large bills and met Dunn. The latter told them that if he carried the stolen property into Canada he could be extradited, and advised him to leave the money with some one.

REFUNDED AND RESTOLEN.

Scott that night replaced the money determined to borrow enough to make up his shortage. He failed in this, however, and the second day after, got a disguise, took two packages of money, one containing $140,000 and the other $10,000.

DUNN TAKES CHARGE OF THE MONEY.

He then went to Dunn and handed him the $140,000 package. That evening he went to Canada and stayed there till September.

FUNDS ON ACCOUNT.

He corresponded with Dunn per the latter's directions and sometimes received sums of money from him in bills of $500 and $1000. In September he went to Europe and resided in London, where his wife joined him in 1887.

A COMPROMISE PROPOSED.

In the latter part of 1886 attempts were made to compromise with the bank and in December it is said that an offer was accepted by the bank to settle the affair for $60,000. Scott then wrote to Dunn, telling him to get ready that amount.

ALL GONE IN SPECULATION.

Dunn replied in January of this year that he had lost all the money in speculation. Then came a crisis, and finally these proceedings were instituted. Dunn's story of speculation was not credited.

DUNN ARRESTED.

Dunn was arrested on Monday of this week in his office and took the matter very coolly. He was sent to Ludlow-street jail in default of $150,000 bail. He will be indicted.

QUITE A SENSATION.

Scott cannot be extradited. Dunn is 38 years of age. The whole story came out to-night and created a great sensation.

DAILY HERALD.

A BIG DAIRY.

The Rich Rodeo de las Aguas Rancho.

After a delightful drive over the Pico road of about eight miles we found ourselves at the great rancho of Messrs. Hammel & Denker, where we called. Here we found Mr. Denker busily engaged in carrying on their immense dairying. He took us through, and showed us the process of extracting the cream from the milk by a patent machine, which he has all in fine running order. After the cream is taken from the milk the butter is made, and put up in two-pound rolls, with a nice muslin around it. They keep it in a place prepared for its reception, under a roof of ice, which keeps the room so cold that flies cannot stay in the building; and everything about the dairy is kept clean as a pin. After the butter is taken out, the milk lasts just like the pure cream, and is the finest that can be made. After looking through the entire establishment, and partaking most bountifully of the butter milk, he took us through to where we found a large corral, filled with large, fat milch cows, numbering about 150. "Here," said he, "is where all the milk comes from that makes such fine butter." Here was a grand sight to see—half a dozen men milking these large cows, and all so admirably arranged that there was no trouble in milking. After looking through for awhile, he showed us the imported horses—another still greater sight, but our allotted time was about up, and we went out to go, when we met Mr. Hammel, who joined our party, and renewed our welcome to their lovely home. He told us there was over 3,000 acres of this ranch, which they had been raising grain on; but that dairying would pay better, and they would make it into a dairy ranch. The have given the right of way to the Railroad Company for their road through their ranch, which they would not take less than $5,000,-000 for. This land produces the finest of fruits, grain, corn and alfalfa—and without irrigation.

When the city spreads out to Santa Monica, this ranch will be about the center of Los Angeles City. Our road lay up toward the foothills from this place, which lay by the large corn ranch of the finest of corn under the foothills, without irrigation. After reaching the hills, our road lay due East through the frostless belt to the city.

Reader, did you ever see this immense dairy? If you have not, go out and see it; it will pay for a trip across the wonderful continent to see it, and if you are fond of butter milk, take some—you will say it is the best you ever saw. Yours truly, VICTOR.

ESCAPED.

Chas. Reimer flies Because he Can't Obtain $25.

A man named Chas. Reimer was arrested by Officer Lynch upon a charge of battery on Monday afternoon, and yesterday morning Deputy Sheriff Alexander took Reimer out to see if his friends could not furnish the $25 bail required. The bail was so small that Alexander did not feel justified in keeping Reimer attached to him by the usual grip, besides Reimer has a wife here and there was no reason why he should attempt to escape. The officer and prisoner went to Brown's restaurant, where a friend of Reimer's was working and from whom he expected to obtain bail. Reimer talked to his friend and they walked to the back part of the restaurant. Alexander supposed that Reimer was going after a drink but he disappeared, and when the officer went to look for him he was several blocks away. The idea that the foolish Reimer should run away because he could not get $25 bail rather staggered Alexander, who made no extended search for the prisoner.

Forcible Entry.

S. P. Mulford and W. Seligman were arrested yesterday on a charge preferred by Mrs. Vanstenburg, accusing them of forcible entry upon her possessions. Mrs. Vanstenburg, who has been renting a store, claims that her next door neighbor moved out and that she purchased the lease. Mr. Mulford, who is agent of the building, disregarding the lease, tried to open the door to the empty store, but found it locked. Mrs. Vanstenburg claims that he then broke open the door and put Seligman in charge. She objected to this trespass upon her lease and will have the case investigated on the 15th of September.

Arrivals of Lumber.

The arrivals of lumber yesterday at San Pedro amounted to 1,737,000 feet, and it was not considered a good day for lumber.

The cargoes consisted of the schooner Marion, Gray's Harbor, for Kerckhoff, Cuzner & Co., 340,000 feet.

Schooner Serena Thayer, Eureka, for Perry, Mott & Co., 309,000 feet.

Schooner Courser, Humboldt Bay, for San Pedro Lumber Company, 476,000 feet.

Schooner Hayes—Humboldt Bay, for Davies-Henderson Lumber Company, 247,000.

Bark Uncle John, Humboldt Bay, Kerckhoff, Cuzner & Co., 365,000 feet.

These arrivals, with those of about twenty more vessels in the harbor, will prevent a lumber famine for some time to come. About forty more vessels are loading or on the way here at the present time.

Reported Railways.

A line of railway from Los Angeles to Hueneme has been surveyed from Vernon over the Cienega, La Brea and Rodeo de las Aguas ranchos to and through the Coldwater cañon; thence to the Simi and Hueneme. Another has been surveyed through the Cahuenga Pass to the Simi via the San Fernando Valley and the Santa Susanna mountains to the Simi. Another and cheaper line was mentioned in the HERALD of yesterday from East Los Angeles to Simi via the south side of the San Fernando valley. Still another line is altogether probable from Pasadena to the Simi via Monte Vista and San Fernando. Those who doubt these reports are informed that all these lines have been surveyed and their advantages are being considered by three different railway companies. There is no question or manner of doubt but one of these lines will be built, and that another will be built from Pomona to the coal mines and fire clay banks in the Temescal cañon.

The good people of Whittier will soon build a railway to Fulton Wells or Norwalk. Railway rumors filled the air yesterday and many of them will soon prove true.

A Substantial Investment.

Sure, safe and profitable; no worry or care and sure to pay. That is the Barton Land and Water Company stock; $40 buys a share. It is going rapidly and only a limited amount will be sold.

A Perilous Postponement.

To postpone, when the duty for immediate action is clear, is always unwise. Especially is it so when increasing ill health calls for a resort to medication. Diseases of the kidneys and bladder are often of swift growth—always of fatal tendency if not combatted at the outset. We have all—even those of us who are not remarkably well instructed—heard something of the danger attending Bright's disease, diabetis, and other diseases of the kidneys or bladder. Let no one be foolhardy enough to procrastinate if he perceives the renal organs to be inactive. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are peculiarly adapted to overcome this inaction, to sufficiently stimulate, without exciting, the kidneys and bladder. Infinitely is this diuretic to be preferred to the impure and fiery stimulants of commerce, which prove the bane of unwary persons with a tendency to renal troubles. They are likewise incomparable for dyspepsia, debility, fever and ague, and billousness.

A CHOICE INVESTMENT!

The Celebrated Barton Ranch of 1150 Acres

At Old San Bernardino.

Conceded by all to be the CREAM of the orange growing section in Southern California, has been purchased by a syndicate of capitalists and well known business men. They have incorporated, with a capital of $500,000,

The Barton Land and Water Company.

THE LOCATION of this magnificent property cannot be excelled. REDLANDS, the town of phenomenal growth, joins it on the south, beautiful LUGONIA on the east, GLADESTA on the north, and SAN BERNARDINO, which is fast becoming a prominent railroad center, is only six miles west. The A. T. & S. F. R. R. is now building a line through this ranch, to be completed October 1st. The Southern Pacific is also locating its line two and a half miles through it, and a DUMMY ROAD from San Bernardino will be built as soon as the company can determine and locate the route. At a point where these three roads converge will be located

The Town of Barton.

THE WATER SUPPLY of this property cannot be excelled in all California. It has three separate water rights, either one of which is sufficient for all its requirements. THE CLIMATIC ADVANTAGES of this valley are unsurpassed, and are now attracting persons of weak lungs and throat troubles from all parts of the country. It has an altitude of 1600 feet, a dry atmosphere, and is free from disturbing winds.

One-half of the stock of this company has been taken by the incorporators, and a limited portion of the remainder will be sold on the following terms: 15 per cent cash and 25 per cent on or before September 1st, when the stock certificates will be issued. The character of the incorporators is a guarantee that this is a safe and desirable investment.

The sale of stock will begin on SATURDAY, AUGUST 13, at the offices of W. P. McINTOSH, No. 122 North Spring street, and DAY, HINTON & MATHES, No. 8 North Spring street.

OCEAN SPRAY is the "Nob Hill" of all Santa Monica. Grandest view of mountain, valley and ocean, combined with such perfect accessibility to the most desirable part of Santa Monica. The prospects of Santa Monica are not regulated and controlled wholly by the future. She is a town of the present, already incorporated and destined at no far distant day to become a good sized city. Schools, Churches and Hotels, a National bank under way, gas works about to be established, new wharf to be built, three new railroads projected and other improvements daily "bobbing up," all of which but bespeak the future of this beautiful place. When "Ocean Spray" is sold you will look a long time to find its equal. Don't delay. This is in all probability the last sale at Santa Monica this season.

The Temple-street cable road will extend their line to the center of the tract before January 1st, 1888. I propose to organize a Joint Stock Company to handle the property and build the hotel, or I will sell the property to a syndicate for that purpose. WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 17, 1887.

Gross Partisan Inconsistencies.

It is really astonishing what fair and enlightened critics Republican editors are when weighing details of Democratic administration. This the Post of the other day, in discussing the possibility of a war with England, alludes bitterly to the defenceless condition in which the policy of Mr. Randall and his associates has left the United States. If we remember right, Mr. Cleveland took charge of the administration of the government on the 4th of March, 1885. In very little more than two years the horrible Democrats could scarcely be responsible for all the defencelessness of the country. When the Republicans came into power the United States had a merchant marine second only to that of Great Britain, and second only at a very slight remove. Our navy in 1860 was quite capable, with the aid of the gallant privateersmen who might have been called into the service, of taking care of that country. We have not yet learned of anything in the way of either fortifications or a navy which has been accomplished by the Republican party during their twenty-four years' control of the Government. During that time our navy, although untold millions have been spent upon it, has dwindled into a few old tubs, of no earthly account, and the forts built under energetic Democratic administrations have been allowed to crumble and decay. During their two years' partial possession of power the Democratic party has at least started in on the work of rehabilitating our navy, and adequate fortifications will undoubtedly follow in due time. Mr. Cleveland, his Cabinet, the Democratic majority in the House and the Democratic minority in the Senate, have all shown their determined animus in favor of putting the United States in an attitude of defense. No one of any party dares to suggest that we should even aim at aggression.

THE HERALD, in common with Democrats on the Pacific Coast generally, has regretted the failure of the River and Harbor bill to become a law. Here, at least, we realize the great advantage to the nation at large resulting from maintaining and adding to the benefits which God and nature have showered upon this country. As a result of the miscarriage of what we regard as a useful measure, the administration has come in for unstinted abuse from the Republican press. This comes with a particularly bad grace from California Republicans. During the last Congress of President Arthur's administration a large appropriation was made for the improvement of the Sacramento river. It was law, and the fund was ready. Mr. Robert T. Lincoln, who was President Arthur's Secretary of State, took it upon himself, however, to defeat the will of Congress, and to block the appropriation. Out of his own arbitrary will he simply refused to expend the money. Here was a Republican precedent which we commend to the editors aforesaid. This was not a case of arresting the passage of what the President regarded as bad law. It was a downright defiance of law as well as a protest against the doctrine of internal improvements, made by a Secretary whose duty it was to execute the law as he found it.

It is unfortunate for the prospects of Republican success in the next Presidential campaign that all their arraignments of the Democratic party are of this thin and gauzy character.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND'S order awarding the contract for building one of the new cruisers to the Union Iron Works of San Francisco makes pleasant reading for the people of the Pacific Coast, and will by no means diminish his popularity, which is already large, amongst Californians. It was the clear intent of Congress that one of these vessels should be constructed on this side of the continent. There was a trifling difference in favor of the bid of Cramp & Co. over the Union Iron Works; and that firm, although already gorged with government work, raised a great outcry, alleging that to award the work to San Francisco was really to give a bounty to Pacific Coast ship builders. The difference in the bids only amounted to a few thousand dollars, and was not a tithe of the sum which it would cost to place the ship in commission and bring it around the "Horn" for the defense of this Coast, so that even from the standpoint of economy, the President's action was wise and warranted by the letter and spirit of the law. But other considerations than money enter into this matter. There is no expanse of waters on the globe where ships of war are more exigently needed than on the Pacific, whether for the purpose of defense or to actively maintain the prestige of the country. The gross inadequacy of the American navy in Hawaiian waters on the occasion of the recent disturbance at Honolulu was a subject of mortifying comment to all Americans resident upon the Islands. It ought to be the policy of the United States, even though it should involve a small pecuniary loss, to build up plants at as many points as possible where vessels of war could be turned out when wanted. President Cleveland has done well.

THE HERALD learns on excellent authority that fifty-five thousand tons of steel rails are on the way from Europe for the Southern Pacific Railway. This is enough to iron three hundred miles of road. Two consignments, amounting in all to four thousand tons, have already reached Los Angeles, and we learn that the whole enormous total is destined for the work of development in the Southern counties. Originally a large portion of these rails was to have been shipped for use in the northern portion of the State, but the managers of the California railway system appreciate the necessity of keeping abreast of the times in the most rapidly growing region of California, and most of their energies will be concentrated hereabouts for some time to come. There is little doubt but that the railway which will reach Hueneme through the San Fernando valley and via the Las Posas and Simi ranchos is really a Southern Pacific project. This, with the extension of the Coast road from Santa Barbara northward and the completion of the Santa Ana branch to San Diego will doubtless, with repairs and improvements of existing tracks, absorb the whole of this shipment, large as it is.

OPINION is divided as to the character and ability of the late Senator Aaron A. Sargent. Such talents as he possessed were certainly not of the higher order, and he was responsible for political practices whose inevitable tendency was to degrade the suffrage. In its most far-reaching sense he was what is known as a "machine" politician, and of that peculiarly odious phase of the machine politician that could be capable of the "tape-worm" ticket enormity at Mare Island. Like most men who have gained a marked ascendancy amongst his fellows, he had his strong and good points. He was a loyal friend and an indefatigable worker. In the heyday of his usefulness at Washington, California could have better spared a better man. His personal industry and perseverance were something entirely out of the common. He attracted his political associates to him in a most remarkable manner for an individual who did not seem to possess any apparent personal magnetism. Mr. Sargent had no claim whatever to statesmanship, and he will leave behind him no monuments of his political career.

THE Fortnightly Review for July has a very able and striking article by the Duke of Marlborough entitled "The Vampire Gold." It affords the HERALD pleasure to note that the noble author presents views identical with those often urged by this journal. It is interesting to note in this connection that a member of the Parliamentary Commission on Gold and Silver, etc., has lately arrived in New York to study that question in this country.

A WASHINGTON telegram states that Mr. J. D. Bethune, the Register of the Land Office at Los Angeles, has resigned. Mr. Bethune has made a popular and efficient official and we presume his resignation is caused by the pressure of private business.

By advertisement elsewhere it will be seen that one hundred men are called for to go to work on paving our streets. This is an auspicious beginning, and is a promise of effective work before the winter rains set in.

TO THE great regret of the people of this coast the President finds it utterly impossible to visit California this year.

Irrigation.

San Bernardino county depends largely on irrigation for its standing in horticultural matters. There are a few localities where can be found moist lands that raise successfully agricultural crops without irrigation, but as a rule moist lands are not so good for fruit, and the orchards and vineyards are therefore mostly confined to the high and dry lands that are irrigated, while the general farming is confined to the low, moist lands.

In the eastern portions of San Bernardino valley, near San Gorgonio Pass, there are thousands of acres of land that usually mature a good crop of wheat or barley. This land is naturally dry and has no water for irrigation purposes, but the character of the soil and general surroundings is such that small grain crops are usually a success.

The sources of water supply for irrigation purposes are many, and none of them are very large.

The Santa Ana river, where it comes out from the mountains, furnishes water for the north and south fork ditches. The north fork ditch furnishes water for Highlands and the Cram settlement. The south fork ditch supplies water for Lugonia, Brookside and Redlands.

Mill creek comes down from the mountains a few miles southeast of the Santa Ana river, and furnish water for Crafton and Old San Bernardino.

A stream running down from the south slope of San Bernardino Mountain furnishing water for Banning.

City Creek, west of the Santa Ana river, furnishes water for a portion of Highlands.

The stream from Devil's Cañon supplies water for a portion of the Muscupiabe rancho.

Lytle Creek, coming down from Old Baldy, west of Cajon Pass, irrigates Mt. Vernon and vicinity.

Etiwanda Cañon irrigates the settlement by that name.

Another small stream furnishes water for Hermosa.

Cucamonga is irrigated by a stream fed by springs that rise just north of that settlement.

Cucamonga cañon irrigates the Iowa tract.

San Antonio cañon, on the line between Los Angeles and San Bernardino Counties is equally divided between Ontario, on the San Bernardino side, and Pomona and other lands, on the Los Angeles side.

San Bernardino is situated in the midst of moist lands where artesian wells can be had anywhere by going to a moderate depth.

Warm creek rises from springs in the main valley away from any mountains. This creek flows into the Santa Ana river east of Colton, and unites with the waters of that stream that rise within a few miles of the junction.

The Meeks & Daley ditch is taken from Warm creek and irrigates a section of country below Colton.

The Santa Ana river in ordinary seasons is dry for many miles below where all the water is taken out to supply North and South Fork ditches. The waters of Warm creek and other smaller tributaries, however, furnish a good stream again, which is taken out by the two Riverside canals to irrigate Riverside. In dry seasons these two canals take all the surface water out of the river at these points, leaving the underflow to come to the surface below; but Spring brook, which rises just northwest of Riverside, replenishes the stream again.

The Jurupa ditch is taken out of the Santa Ana river, that irrigates West Riverside.

The Yorba settlement, including the property of the South Riverside Vineyard Company, located on the Santa Ana river sixteen miles below Riverside, again takes all the surface water out of the river for that settlement, but other streams coming in from the north side of the river make a good stream that goes down to supply irrigation water for settlements in Los Angeles county.

One of these feeders is a short stream that comes from a single spring that, summer and winter, furnishes 250 inches of water that runs a grist mill within a mile of the spring.

There are other small, natural water supplies, but we have enumerated the principal ones in this county.

A stream of water for irrigation purposes in this valley is considered well worth $1000 an inch measured in an ordinary midsummer, and some water rights are selling at a higher figure. Hence every small stream that can be utilized is made valuable. The value of water is of course dependent to a certain extent on its location, for a small stream that will develop a small settlement is not so valuable per inch as a large stream that will make possible a larger settlement.

About all the natural supplies of water having been utilized, people have turned their attention to the development of water. This is done in three ways:

1st—Artesian wells.
2d—Tunnels.
3d—Reservoirs.

There are artesian belts where flowing wells can be readily and cheaply obtained. The artesian belt in this valley is now pretty well defined, and outside of this belt experiments are made at great risk. Usually flowing water is obtained in the moist and semi-moist land and very rarely on the high mesa lands.

Tunnels are being used now to save the underflow of mountain streams. Two are now in process of construction in this county.

Judson & Brown have one in the bed of the Santa river below where the water is taken out of the stream to supply the North and South Fork ditches.

The Ontario Land Company have driven a tunnel in under San Antonio creek a distance of nearly 1,800 feet, at a cost of about $25,000, and they have about 250 inches of water, worth a quarter of a million of dollars.

There are scores of places in the county where tunnels can be run in under the beds of streams where they come out of the cañons upon the plains, and the underflow saved for irrigation purposes.

The first attempt at a storage reservoir in this county was made by Judson & Brown at Redlands. The reservoir has never been completed as at first planned, but it is now used as a distributing reservoir only. When completed it will hold winter water enough to irrigate several hundred acres of land. M. H. Crafts next commenced a storage reservoir for Crafton, which will be a great aid to the irrigating system of that settlement.

In addition to these is the Bear valley reservoir, the largest irrigation reservoir in the State, of which we have heretofore given an account.—[San Bernardino Times.

The Best Known Specific.

It is safe to affirm that there is no known specific that can compare with Dr. Henley's Celebrated Celery, Beef and Iron for the treatment of nervous diseases. This compound contains a large amount of celery, which is one of the best nervines known to the medical fraternity, and when prepared with extract of beef and pyrophosphate of iron, arrests physical and mental decline, and should certainly be given a trial by all those who are suffering from nervous diseases. Celery, Beef and Iron can be procured of all druggists.

DAILY HERALD.

Midsummer Love Stories.

A young German carpenter was married to a pretty Bohemian girl in Omaha, the other day after a six months' courtship, which must have been conducted entirely in pantomine, as neither can speak a word of the other's language. The services of an interpreter were needed at the altar, but the young couple seemed as if they had talked sweet nothings i. to each other's ears all their lifetime.

Sam Peters is a good looking young negro who has been hauling watermelons into Quitman, Ga., from his master's farm in Brooks county. On the way home he always kept a sharp lookout for a pretty yellow girl who sometimes flirted with him from the roadside. Last Monday, as he was passing her house she cried out: "Wesh I had one of dem are watermillions." Sam said he would give her the biggest one in the lot if she would ride into town with him and she accented. By the time they had reached town Sam had persuaded her to marry him; a preacher was hunted up and the knot was tied.

A romantic wedding took place at Edwardsville, Ill., the other day, with Professor Sames O. Duncan, of Vandalia, a widower, was married to Mrs. Lillie Carroll, of Sprinfield, a widow. The marriage was the culmination of a series of coincidences in the lives of the wedded. pair. The Rev. J. B. Thompson, who performed the ceremony, officiated in the same capacity at Professor Duncan's first marriage, and preached the funeral sermon at the death of Professor Duncan's wife and at the death of Mrs. Carroll's husband. It was this strange fatality of circumstances which induced the couple to seek again the services of Mr. Thompson.

A pretty Nebraska widow, who had ensnared the affections of many respectable farmers living near Wyman, was recently ordered to leave the country by a band of "regulators" under penalty of a coat of tar and feathers. Nothing daunted by the threat the widow bought a double-barreled shotgun and awaited developments. When the regulators approached the house to carry out their threat, the sight of a loaded shotgun pointed from one of the windows deterred them, and one of the number, in admiration of the woman's pluck, advanced under a flag of truce, proposed marriage, and was accepted on the spot. Then a parson was called in, the marriage was celebrated, and the night wound up with a round of festivities.

Henry Wynn, a bachelor from the West, who was recently visiting his brother at Owen Sound, Ontario, expressed the desire one day to get married before his return. The day of the departure had already been set, and to expedite matters he offered his brother's wife a deed to fifty acres of land if she would get him a wife by the Saturday following the date of the offer. After exploring the town without success for several days, on Friday Mrs. Wynn met a Mrs. Melrose, who was willing to accept the offer. She was introduced to her prospective husband on Saturday evening, just before the boat was leaving. A consultation was held, the pair were married on the spot, Mrs. Wynn was handed over the deed for the fifty acres of land, and the bride and groom steamed away for their prairie home.

A Burglar's Luck.

An amusing case has just been tried at the Bouches du Rhone Assizes. A discharged criminal, named Marot, after having left prison, was on the tramp in Provence, when he passed by a chateau which had been used by its wealthy owner as a kind of receptacle for old-fashioned furniture and pictures. The house was uninhabited, but it was visited and its contents overhauled every three months by the owner's workmen. Marot went up to the door, and, as his repeated knocks and rings received no response, he calmly took out a jimmy with which he had managed to supply himself after having left prison, and, forcing the lock, got into the deserted chateau. No prince in fairyland could have suddenly cast his lines in such a pleasant place. The cellars were still stocked with wines of the best brands, and there were even some provisions in the larder waiting to be eaten. Morot lost no time, after having regaled himself with a little food and wine, in looking out for a comrade with whom to share his luck. Going a short distance along the road he soon struck up an acquaintance with another tramp, with whom he returned to the chateau. The pair made themselves comfortable in the place for several weeks. They turned the drawing-room into a kitchen and burned the frames of the ancestral pictures as firewood. Finally they made preparations for setting the chateau on fire, when they had consumed all the liquor obtainable on the premises. Their carnival was cut short, however, by the sudden appearance on the scene of the owner's workmen, who, to their surprise, saw smoke issuing from the chimneys of the chateau, and broken bottles all around the doorsteps and on the lawn. Going into the house they found the two tramps placidly seated at a table in the salon, preparing to discuss a small cask of Hermitage which they had just brought up from the cellar. The thieves were at once arrested, and, after the trial, Marot was condemned to twenty years' penal servitude, his companion being sentenced to half that term.—[Paris Morning News.

It ought to console people who are bitten this summer by the mosquito to be told by a scientist that the mosquito is wondrously beautiful. "Place one," he says, "under a microscope. Adjust the lenses. Now place your eye to the eye-piece. Presto! The tiny, dirt-colored speck has vanished, and in its place appears the most radiant and gorgeous creature which the mind can conceive of. The wings are of pale amber, the legs and thorax magenta, the body dark green, the eyes purplish black and glittering like diamonds, the proboscis shining like ebony. Compared with this pomp and magnificence of decoration, the brightest and most vivid of the painters' pigments are muddy."

Cement.

The Los Angeles Storage, Commission and Lumber Company, San Pedro street, near Third, are doing the largest business in cement of any concern in the southern part of the State. Being agents of Davis & Cowell, the heaviest importers of cement in the State, and having superior warehouse facilities, they can sell cement as low or lower than any other dealers, and will not be undersold.

Nadeau Vineyard Land Company

E. BOUTON, President. JOHN BRYSON, Sr., Vice-Pres.

JOHN I. REDICK, Treasurer. WM. WHITE, Secretary.

Capital Stock, - - $1,200,000

1200 SHARES OF $100 EACH.

☞The company is now fully organized and ready for business. Four hundred thousand dollars of the stock is offered for investment and is being rapidly taken by home capitalists.

☞This grand domain is only two and one-half miles south of the corporate limits of Los Angeles, and comprises 3254 acres of the best land in Southern California, 2326 acres of which is in healthy and profitable vineyards. A branch of the Southern Pacific Company's railroad to San Pedro passes along the west side of the land and the Santa Ana or San Diego branch of the same company passes through the tract from west to east. The Ballona branch of the California Central passes along the northern boundary, while the San Diego branch will pass through the tract for two miles on the northern portion of the rancho. These remarkable railroad facilities make the land especially valuable for manufacturing purposes and it is understood that the owners will give generous grants of land to railways for car shops, storage houses for protection and painting of cars, nail factories, iron works, planing mills and paper mills. Shipments can be made from the rancho to all parts of the country by lines that lead in every direction.

☞The managers of this property think the outlook justifies the anticipation of being able to sell, in subdivision, eight hundred or a thousand acres of this property for enough money to return them the entire cost of $1,200,000, and have remaining a property that will pay a good return on an investment of $3,000,000.

☞The sale of 4000 shares, now at par, is to pay the incumbrances on the land, and for gathering and manufacturing the present enormous grape crop, estimated at 16,000,000 pounds.

Subscriptions for stock are now being taken at the offices of

HONI SOIT QUI MAL Y PENSE.

The Summer Line Between Modesty and Immodesty.

It is alleged that to the pure all things are pure, and that much abused motto is true of Narragansett, writes a correspondent from that charming summer resort. The people and their pranks are innocent enough, and when mademoiselle removes her bathing suit she removes entirely all the conditions surrounding its use and becomes once more a young person of great conservatism in matters of modesty. The peculiar contrast is sometimes funny. This morning a young lady of 18, whose christian name appears to be Mary, appeared on the beach in a blue bathing suit and conventional dark blue stockings. She was so little bothered by her short skirts and long legs that she fairly waltzed into the breakers, in merry indifference, and afterward took a long walk up the beach in the company of a gentleman bather, with only one thickness of cloth between the most of her and the soft clemency of the weather. When she came out she chatted unconcernedly with several ladies, and tramped around with easy indifference until, by a circuitous route, she reached her bathhouse and disappeared. This was at 12:30 o'clock.

At 4:30 o'clock she sat down on the top step of the hotel stairs and soon became absorbed in the fascinating pages of Allan Quatermain. Soon she forgot everything else. Lost in the center of Africa, she became unconscious of the social amenities of America. Becoming cramped in her position, she crossed her right knee over her left. Her gray cashmere dress was tight and she gave it a twitch. Her attitude to any one entering the place and ascending the steps thereupon became unconventional, if not picturesque. It must have been so to some extent, for her companion of the morning as he entered the yard and stopped at the foot of the stairs made a remark. His eye twinkled and his tone was at once patronizing, mildly reproachful and humorously malicious. He said:

"You're getting to be a big girl now, Mary."

In less time than it requires to read it, Mary had done several things. She had straightened out her feet, slapped down her skirt, blushed to a deep ochre tint even to the back of her neck, and hurled Allan Quatermain with all her strength at the gentleman, who, though he dodged, refused to stop laughing. Then, as the ludicrousness of the situation struck her, she began to laugh too. Though the stockings were different, the limbs inside them were precisely the same that she had exhibited that morning to a far greater extent and without a blush. Circumstances appeared to alter the case, as they always do with women.

DAILY HERALD.

PERKINS VS. BALDWIN.

Louise in Her Old Allies' Camp.

SENSATIONAL DEVELOPMENTS.

The Contract of Settlement Now Claimed to Be Fraudulent. Miss Perkins in Town.

Judge O'Melveny's courtroom was crowded with spectators, jurors and witnesses yesterday morning, the occasion being the calling of the celebrated case of Perkins vs. Baldwin. At 10 o'clock the Judge took his seat on the bench, and Colonel G. Wiley Wells immediately took the floor. He read the supplemental answer filed a short time ago, and which was published in the HERALD at the time. He also read the contract entered into by the plaintiff, Louise J. Perkins, whereby, for a consideration of $100, she acquitted Baldwin of all liability for damages alleged to have been sustained by his breach of promise of marriage. A receipt was read acknowledging the receipt of $12,000 as the sum paid in settlement of the case. Counsel then moved that the case be dismissed, as it had been settled. Hon. S. M. White, of counsel for the plaintiff, opposed the motion, stating that he had received no notice that the motion was going to be made. Furthermore, he said that he was prepared to prove that the contract was not fairly procured, and hence the facts would have to go before a jury and be decided by them. Referring to the prayer for dismissal in the supplemental answer, Mr. White said that it was a prayer for judgment, and not for an immediate dismissal.

The Court said that it was clear to him that, as the counsel for the plaintiff opposed the motion and denied the validity of the contract, it would be necessary to have a trial to decide the points.

Upon being pressed by Judge Van Dyke he continued the case until 2 o'clock P. M., at which time counsel said he would be prepared to argue the motion.

At 2 P. M. the case coming on again Col. Wells proceeded to argue the proposition. He proceeded on the assumption that the attorneys for Miss Perkins were attempting to carry on the suit under the assignment of the previous judgment, and in spite of her settlement of the case. The Colonel argued at great length on these propositions, citing many authorities from all the States in support of his views.

During this argument Mr. White stated several times that they were not setting up any claim under the assignment, but that he was prosecuting for his client. Wells insisted this could not be so, as the papers setting forth the settlement must establish the fact that the cause was at an end so far as Miss Perkins is concerned. Col. Wells closed at 3 o'clock, and then Judge Van Dyke took up the matter and cited further elaborate opinions to show that parties had a right to settle out of court, and without consulting their attorneys; that judgments, such as this case involves, are not assignable; that the papers filed, proving on their face that the cause had been settled, there was no other course to pursue than that of dismissal.

The argument taking a wide range and consuming much time, at 3:15 the court excused the jury until 10 A. M. to-day.

Judge Van Dyke proceeded in the same general line of argument until about 3:40. Mr. White followed, and said he would not occupy much attention of the Court. He would confine himself to the statute law of the State of California as found in the Code of Civil procedure. He read a section or two from the code, and referred to the decision of the Supreme Court in the case of Rainer.

The legal point involved seemed to be this: Mr. White held that the other side having introduced new matter into the case, viz., the contract of settlement, he was not bound to plead at all in answer to it. The statute in this case pleads for him a general denial of all in the new matter. Colonel Wells tried to force the hand of the other side so as to show what particular point the attack would be made on. It finally turned on the question as to whether the plaintiff was herself following up the prosecution or whether her attorneys were going on with the case by virtue of the assignment of the old judgment. At length Mr. White deemed it advisable to develop his case so far as to say that he was here as Miss Perkins' agent; that she was ready to go on with the case.

It transpired that Louise is in the city, having arrived here yesterday morning. The plaintiff will now attempt to prove that the settlement was obtained under fraudulent representations made to her by some person in the interest of the defense. During one of the passages of arms between the attorneys, Mr. White stated that he had papers in his possession which would prove the settlement was procured by means of fraud so gross that the perpetrators should be incarcerated in the penetentiary. At an other point Col. Wells said that if the plaintiff's attorney had any documents purporting to come from Miss Perkins or from any one who was authorized to speak for her, of any such nature such, documents were forgeries.

Miss Perkins came to Los Angeles or to some point near about Sunday afternoon, and came into the city yesterday morning. She is now here and understood to be in the camp of her old allies ready to show that false representations were made to her; that she signed the contract to settle under the influence of these statements. It was whispered that one of the things told her was that her attorneys were ready to sell her out.

THE COURT.

At 3:50 Judge O'Melveny began his statement of opinion as elicited by the argument. He said in the main as follows: The power of the assignment has nothing to rest on. The case is pending in the name of the plaintiff. That law is, however, not to be considered. As to the rights of the plaintiff to settle her case—she is clearly the principal. Her attorneys are merely her agents. They have no lien on her case. They must get their fee some other way. The client has always the right to consult his interests and settle, and he need not consult his attorney about that. The law and the courts all favor these settlements between the principals under the supposition, that when cases are so settle justice between man and man is more nearly reached than can be by the intervention of any court. These general rules would apply even to contingent fees. The Supreme Court of this State, however, under the new code has passed on several cases where the opposite view is held, and that seems to be the law of the State as it now stands. The general rule that the principal should have the power to settle seems just, but there is the law. I can't get over it. I find no assignment here. Suppose plaintiff sees fit to settle and give release, what interest has the agent or attorney? What interest in that which is ended? He cannot prosecute without the consent of his client. The matter being settled, the agents power ends. The independent action of the attorney cannot prosecute. The showing made here by the defendant demands that the plaintiff be shown to desire to prosecute.

At this point Mr. White let his bombshell fall into the camp of the enemy, by rising and stating that as a member of the bar of Los Angeles he was here to prosecute for his client, in her name, and at her desire. Col. Wells opposed the acceptance of this statement unsupported by anything from the plaintiff. The Court said Mr. White's word to that effect was sufficient.

The Court then took up the matter of the general pleading claimed by the plaintiff by virtue of the statute, saying that he had thought of it a thousand times. It lays the other side so open to surprise. They do not know how they are to prepare for the attack. But the law deems the answer to be denied. The other side may be surprised by the testimony. I would like to see the law changed in this respect; but that is the law. The Court quoted authorities to the effect that if one side claims a settlement and the other denies it, that puts both sides on their proof. The paper on its face may show the settlement, but there may be other facts that may show this paper should not be taken for what it appears to be. The fact that the plaintiff is ready to go on calls for the trial of the issue. The motion to dismiss is denied.

The defendant took his exception to the ruling of the Court. And on further discussion by the attorneys the Court held that the whole case goes to the same jury involving the trial of the validity of the contract of settlement. The case was adjourned to 10 A. M. today. The attorneys for the defense gave notice of surprise, which those for the plaintiff declined to accept.

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE.

A Petit Larcenist Found Guilty by Justice Austin.

George Draper of the genus hoodlum was tried before Justice Austin yesterday on a charge of petit larceny. The evidence was all circumstantial, but it was sufficient to induce Justice Austin to find the defendant guilty. D. R. Shipman, the loser of a valise and its contents, testified that he took a room at Mrs. Annie Dennis's lodging house, and in the same room was another bed occupied by Draper. About a week ago Shipman woke up and found his valise and Draper gone. Since that time he had seen Draper on the street but that individual took to his heels whenever he caught sight of the man he robbed. But a day or two ago Shipman caught Draper napping on the corner of Main and Third streets and turned him over to Officer Loomis who recognized him as a hard character. A second hand store man named Blumenthal identified Draper as the person who offered him a razor for sale for 50 cents. This razor corresponded in description to the one in the valise which had been stolen. Draper's story was not very convincing as to his innocence and he will be sentenced to-day.

Marriage Bells.

Yesterday (Tuesday the 16th inst.) the marriage ceremony between Mr. J. Watts, of Los Angeles, California, and Miss L. Tweedy, youngest daughter of G. Tweedy Esq., Wear Cottage, Bishop Auckland, in the county Durham, England, was performed at the residence of Mr. Ashton Fry of Ninth street, Los Angeles. The ceremony was of a private character, and beyond the immediate relatives and friends of the bride and bridegroom no other invitations were issued. Those included Mr. and Mrs. A. Fry, Mr. and Mrs. A Watts, Mr. R. Watts, Mr. Fry and Friend, Mr. and Mrs. C. Allan and R. R. Briggs, of Bishop Auckland, England. The Rev. W B. Stradley, pastor of the M. E. Church South, performed the ceremony after which the friends present were hospitably entertained. The bride was becomingly attired in a rich robe of cream silk elaborately trimmed with rich Prussian lace. The spacious apartments of Mr. and Mrs. Fry were profusedly and tastefully decorated with flowers, fruits and evergreens in honor of the interesting occasion.

Railroad Development.

Yesterday there arrived in Los Angeles the last train load of an invoice of 1500 tons of steel rails from New Orleans for the Southern Pacific Company. Previously there came a cargo of 2400 tons and then there is en route sufficient to swell these arrivals to the enormous amount of 55,000 tons of steel rails. This is enough to lay track on more than 300 miles of road. Much of it is said to have been intended originally for road building in the upper end of the State, but now most of it will come here. Among the lot is some of 61-pound steel, the heaviest in use, to iron the track between this city and Sepulveda.

The Rozelle Case.

The trial of W. F. Rozelle was actually commenced yesterday morning, and the testimony of the witnesses was similar to that given at the trial of Mrs. Grettie Rozelle. The first witness was Charles R. Petrie, who retold the story of how he was scarred by the vitriol poured while Mrs. Rozelle sat on his lap. Dr. Orme and other witnesses did not relate anything which is not familiar to the public, and the case was continued at 5 o'clock until this morning.

Through to Ballona.

After numerous delays, which always come in the completion of great enterprises, the final rail will be laid to connect Los Angeles with Port Ballona to-day. Side-tracks will then be laid, and everything will be in readiness for passenger travel early next week.

Col. F. T. Perris, chief engineer of the California Central, was in the city yesterday and stated that he expected to open the railway to Port Ballona on Monday next, August 22d.

THE SALVATION ARMY.

The Hoodlums Break Up the Meeting.

Disregarding the warning given by Chief Skinner, on Monday night, the Salvation Army appeared on the streets last night with the trumpet and the bass drum and the other outlandish musical instruments. The half-dozen misguided females were left behind, but the males armed themselves with torches and started down through the heart of the city. As they reached the neighborhood of Spring and Court streets, followed by several hundred young hoodlums, Officers Lemon and Appel took them in charge and marched them to the police station in front of which about two thousand people gathered. Chief Skinner detained the Captain of the Army, a sallow faced man with a far-away look in his eyes, who announced that he had a right to march, and he was going to do it, "by the grace of God." The rest of the fanatics, after being hustled by the crowd, were allowed to march back to their hall, to which place they were followed by a large crowd of hoodlums. As they entered the hall the hoodlums followed, and, regardless of the rights of citizens, commenced to break the furniture, and for a few minutes affairs were very lively. The terrified Salvationists telephoned to the Police Station for help, and Chief Skinner and a number of officers proceeded to the scene. They found the hoodlums in possession, and started to drive them out, when some one turned the gas out at the meter. This created some consternation, but it was finally lighted again, and the hall was cleared. Chief Skinner again warned the foolish people against marching through the streets, but they replied that they had a right so to do and intended to keep up their nefarious practice. The matter had been in a court in some country village, and it had been decided that the law permitted them to march, and they intended to march, Chief Skinner to the contrary. Chief Skinner replied that the case had not been decided here and that he should place them under arrest if they continued to be a public nuisance. At the police station the cadaverous Captain told with a mournful tone how every city in the world permitted the red-shirted band to parade, and related quite a history of his experiences in traveling through the hamlets of this country. The various newspapers throughout the country do not confirm his tale of peaceful toleration, and either the papers or the red-shirted Captain with the tamborine, are at fault. Trouble is expected to-night, if the red-shirted saints decide to march.

The New Hotel.

The committee on the hotel yesterday met with great success. In all instances those approached took $1,000 in stock, and in all rising $30,000 was taken. None were permitted to take more than $1,000, although one person wished to subscribe for $50,000. Several proposals for sites were sent the committee, but no action will be taken in this matter until $100,000 is subscribed, when the subscribers will decide this point. Then the property surrounding the site will surely subscribe another $100,000. When the $200,000 is raised there will be no trouble about obtaining the other moiety necessary to put up the building. To-day there will be made a big hole in the first $100,000.

A Monster Project.

Los Angeles orchardists have become so crowded for room on the west side of the Colorado desert that they have started a project to take water from the Colorado river near Castle Dome, where an island of rock will protect a toma from which water will be carried to the lands below Yuma amounting to 180,000 acres. Fifty thousand acres of land have been purchased out of this tract within the past four weeks, of which a leading San Francisco journal that antagonizes land grabbers, took 7000 acres.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

ALASKA.

A Letter from General Edwin Ward.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 13, 1887.

EDITORS HERALD: Permit me to have the pleasure of addressing you a few lines before I have the pleasure of meeting you in person; as I trust I may be able to do shortly.

I left Pasadena for Alaska—I have done it—and have acquired such as is usual and common; that is, great experience in brief words of one capable of doing justice to the cause in divers ways, such as becomes a seer anxious to profit by the best phase and the varied phases presented, and apply it to the best advantages to others. This I would like to ask you to grant me, in the interests of our lovely Central Californian region, an interview with you. One not venturesome, but honorable to all and every particular relating to prosperity, es: ecially to California at large, and even more to the State's pride.

I ask to be American, and be true and capable of all.

On that ground, you, whom all know so fair and honorable, will trust, not doubt, my veracity and truth to do justice to a great occasion, associated with the sterling worth of California, which we all enjoy, as may be maintained one of the greatest blessings. The prospect of an acknowledged super-excellent future prospect of an attraction wielded by providence above the land and below. Situated in close proximity to Los Angeles, affording the greatest possible future to benefit to all California.

I predict that in but a very brief time there will be a largely increased traffic through California from the warmer south to the cooler north, and on to the Alaskan semi-arctic wonders that the wide world will follow along this truly wondrous track—the whole way in such bulk of people as of itself afford a bulwark of stability irrespective of the rest.

So much strength additional to mineral wealth, various climate and scenery of Arctic wonders must henceforth accumulate and make this quarter of the globe the newest wonder.

My love of Pasadena has nevertheless not diminished one iota, but otherwise increased in ratio largely and justly and honestly, run in the route the whole way from New York to Alaska, through California, and hence came the climax of incalculable wonders, irresitible and irrepressable, and only to be believed when seen. Such I say in hopes of doing a duty as a citizen whose heart is in the glory of America equally with a born native, which I was all but being as my father wished, but my mother was in England and my father went back to England. I have Dublin blood on my mother's side, yet I am proud of America and try to prove it in my every act and deed, even if doubted by some, believe me it is not fair.

All round Alaska it was Long Beach to my surprise and illustrating I am at present whole, that is what I beg to explain adventures of a kind not over kind but true.

We had a most notable party of charming and great people with every branch of art, science and political taste on board the steamship Olympian, all of whom were remarkable wherever wonders were to be discovered.

Even worthy of a narrative however by object is to endeavor to combine worth, wonder and wisdom—wealth as presented in the phase of the schemes just devised and inaugurated by the many new enterprises which the intellectuality of man can accomplish and has accomplished recently not only on a large scale but upon an unusually grand and magnificent and exceptionally attractive and practical basis.

Allow me to express an apologetic excuse for encroaching this much and to be permitted to enjoy the pleasure of meeting you when convenient on my return to the county from which I started (Los Angeles).

Believing the Trust, Yours in Sincerity EDWIN WARD.

A Card.

LOS ANGELES, August 14, 1887.

ED. HERALD—Los Angeles and the Empire of Russia have something in common. They both can boast of having one full-fledged autocrat in their midst. The Los Angeles autocrat rides a high horse, and the rest of the world, especially the residents of Sand and Montreal streets, must crawl in dust. The Los Angeles autocrat's regiment of men and horses camping near the junction of the above-named streets, are parading there four times daily. They are organized to do battle to dust, yet they only succeed partially. They awaken first and then drive this enemy of human society—dust—before them in great clouds. They to a certain extent do what the sea did with Pharoah's troops. While pursuing the Jews they swallow up—not Pharoah's troops, but the dust. But they will allow the greatest part to escape and hide in neighboring houses, endangering thereby thereby these houses and their inmates. He must be indeed an autocrat who can cause so much disturbance and annoyance, as Mr. Dunegan's water carts do, and yet does not possess the sense of propriety and decency to meet the wishes and requests of citizens, who, living along a graded street, ask only what is granted others not having an improved thoroughfare. Mr. Dunegan and wagons are actually ruining a good street, and his camp has become an absolute nuisance to the neighborhood. His teams are taken over sand and Mon treal creek to and from their homes four times each day, grinding the soil to the finest powder, and yet no one seems to observe an established law nor show their good will to water the streets. Any member of the Common council wishing to investigate the matter may have the full benefit of the evil, taking a free ride behind Mr. D's iron gray. A SUFFERER.

Paving The Streets.

The superintendent of the Bituminous Limerock Paving and Improvement Company elsewhere advertises for a hundred men to work on the new pavement to be made by that company in this city. This work so long desired is now likely to be begun at once, greatly to the delight of the people and to the preservation of the public health.

FIVE HUNDRED DAYS.

Edward Williams' Reward for Assaulting Dagmar Zacharia.

When the case of Edward Williams, charged with assault to rape Dagmar Zacharia, was called at 11 o'clock yesterday morning in Justice Austin's courtroom Williams said that he would waive examination, but he was informed that this could not be allowed. He had no attorney, nor did he desire one, but upon the suggestion of the Assistant District Attorney he asked that the examination be held with closed doors. Justice Austin therefore ordered the few spectators to leave the courtroom, and the testimony in particular cannot be given, but it was ascertained afterward that the witnesses who were summoned and examined knew very little of the case except by hearsay. There was no testimony to show that Williams had done anything to the little girl Dagmar, except to unfasten her clothes while she was in his arms. This testimony was given by the little girl and a small boy, neither of whom knew the nature of an oath or were competent to testify before a fury. Williams admitted that he was in the house, and said he would plead guilty to a charge of simple assault. At 2 o'clock Justice Austin, upon motion of the Deputy District Attorney, dismissed the charge of assault to commit rape, but a warrant was sworn out charging Williams with assault to which he pleaded guilty. Justice Austin, after lecturing the prisoner as to the enormity of the crime and the narrowness of his escape from a long sentence in the State Prison, fined him $500 or 500 days in the county jail. This sentence, which amounts to about a year and a half, was considered to be merited, and will act as a sort of a lesson for other tramps and individuals who have a weakness for tampering with little girls.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Attention Called to the Bond Election on the 27th.

The Board of Education met last night, President Dr. Kurtz in the Chair and Mrs. A. S. Averill, Mr. F. S. Graham and Superintendent W. M. Friesner present.

A communication was received from Caukin & Haas, offering to furnish working plans for the new buildings to be erected with the money to be derived from the sale of bonds. Received and filed.

Mr. Henry was authorized to paint and repair the Eighth street school.

Miss Margaret E. Dennis was elected substitute teacher in the department.

Several applications for positions in the department were received and referred to the Committee on Teachers.

Mrs. Averill moved that the Board enter its protest agains the settlement of the Chinese on the grounds leased by Hellman & Haas. Carried unanimously, and Mrs. Averill was authorized to draw up the resolution to present to the Council on Monday next.

Mrs. Averill desired to call the attention of the people to the necessity of voting for the issuance of the bonds, and the press of the city was requested to urge the citizens to turn out largely on the 27th instant.

The Board then adjourned.

NEW SUITS.

Several Contests for Possession of Real Property.

There was filed in the County Clerks office yesterday a suit of William Schulte vs. the Dreyfus heirs for possession of the southwest quarter of section 32, township 3 south, range 10 west, S. B. M. The land in dispute is part of the rancho Cajo de San Juan de Santa Ana, and is near the town of Anaheim.

Eleanora K. Stone sues to eject John J. Adams from fractional lots 6 ond 7 of block 77, Hancock's survey of this city, containing 57.32 acres.

The same party sues John Adams to eject him from lot 2 of the same block, containing 23.42 acres. Sh, also seeks to eject Emily A. Billings, H. G. Billings, W. A. H. Connors, S. P. Rees, J. W. Brainard, A. E. Ditch and O. A. Tyler from lots 3 and 4 of the same block, the last being known as the "Spence" tract.

Georgia H. Bell sues Francisco Figueroa for possession of part of the rancho La Ballona containing 15.10 acres bounded north by Coto, east by Cota and Perez and south and west by the creek.

Rapid Transit Railroad.

The Directors of the Rapid Transit Railway held a meeting yesterday at the office of the Secretary, H. A. Unruh, 57 Spring street. After a very inteligent and thorough discussion of the gauge of the railway, it was decided to adopt the three-foot gauge and to adopt electricity as the motive power. The steel rails will probably be about thirty pounds to the yard. The work of grading will commence on the eastern end of the track and proceed towards the city. The line that enters the city has not yet been determined, but it will doubtless come from the east side of the river on an elevated road into the center of the town, near the plaza.

A contract has been let for a large hotel on the line of this road, at East San Gabriel. The building is to be completed by the 15th of December next, and will contain about seventy-five rooms, and cost $100,000. The building materials are already on the ground for the structure, and the work will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

The Southern Pacific line passes south of the new hotel and is already at work putting up a new depot for the accommodation of the visitors to that delightful spot. The Rapid Transit Railway will erect a depot on the north side of the new hotel. The hotel will be accessible from two different railways, and will be a thing of beauty. The country hotels now being erected are models of beauty and convenience and are being completed on the double quick.

A New Railroad.

Another motor railroad is to be built in the northern part of the city on Utah and Montana avenues, the motive power to be compressed gas carried in a reservoir. The plan has been used for several years and is feasible for short distances without forcing in a supply or the gas tender can be switched off at distances of fifteen miles and a freshly filled tender hitched on its place. The road will be built by Mr. Brown who built the Temple street cable road for the proprietors, M. L. Wicks, P. M. Scott, Maltman & Ivers and McCollum & Bixby. This motor will make up five different kinds of locomotion used on the railways of this city. What motor will be used next?

Seeds That Germinate Quickly.

The human system is a fruitful soil, and among seeds that germinate most rapidly in it are those of rheumatism and neuralgia. A slight cold, brought on by sitting in a draught, wet feet or damp clothes, will develop either of those abominable painful maladies with unpleasant rapidity. The proper preventive of this agonizing vegetation is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a medicine which nullifies a tendency to either of the maladies named, and soothes the aches which they cause. Nor is it less effective as a remedy for rheumatism than as its preventive, a fact as amply attested as any other relating to its curative properties. Mariners, miners, frontiersmen and others have ever found it a faithful preservative of health in unfavorable regions, and a benign remedy for malarial disorders and stomach, liver and bowel complaints. It is a fine promoter of appetite and a capital tonic.

"No Physic, Sir, in Mine!"

A good story comes from a boys' boarding school in "Jersey." The diet was monotonous and constipating, and the learned Principal decided to introduce some old-style physic in the apple sauce, and await the happy results. One bright lad, the smartest in school, discovered the secret name in his sauce, and pushing back his plate, shouted to the pedagogue, "No physic, sir in mine. My dad told me to use nuthin' but Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets, and they are doing their duty like a charm!" They are anti-bilious, and purely vegetable.

"Hello!" we heard one man say to another, the other day. "I didn't know you at first, why! you look ten years younger than you did when I saw you last." "I feel ten years younger," was the reply. "You know I used to be under the weather all the time and gave up expecting to do better. The doctor said I had consumption. I was terribly weak, had night-sweats, cough, no appetite, and lost flesh. I saw Dr. Pierce's 'Golden Medical Discovery' advertised, and thought it would do no harm if it did no good. It has cured me. I am a new man because I am a well one."

Don Pedro first came to Los Angeles nearly forty years ago, and of course he is now getting somewhat gray though he still is apparently in robust health. Of the old poblanos whom he knew here away back in the '40's, he finds very few indeed, left. His present home is in San Jose. Whilst here, he will visit San Bernardino where, in 1841, he superintended the building of the first saw mill in California for his uncle, old J. L. Vignes, the pioneer Frenchman of Los Angeles and the founder of the celebrated Aliso Vineyard. In '55 Don Pedro, in company with his brother, Don Louis Sainsevain, bought this vineyard from their uncle and carried it on in connection with an extensive wine business for many years, as recounted in the HERALD of July 7th.

The burning of the building is a great calamity to the mining interests of that section.

The Cheapest Lands in Pasadena

The reservoir, to cost about $10,000, on the Raymond Improvement Company Tract, in front of the Raymond Hotel, s being constructed, and it is having the effect of creating a boom in the lands surrounding that Hotel. The Raymond Improvement Company has its first subdivision ready, and they offer the cheapest lots in Pasadena for sale. The lots are selling very fast. Smith & Jacobs, who are the shrewdest speculators in Pasadena, purchased 115 lots on this tract at one time, last week. They propose to build houses and mark up the lots to about double the Company's present prices, and purchasers may look for a general marking up in a short time. Fair-Oaks avenue is to be widened to an 80-foot street, and Smith & Jacobs intend to build a handsome business-block. Four elegant cottages already contracted for. An electric road, from Los Angeles to this tract, is under headway, and this Company has also agreed to give the right of way and a bonus to another road which will run from the Raymond Hotel through their land, to Long Beach. Apply to Raymond Improvement Company, Room 10, Los Angeles National Bank Building, corner First and Spring streets.

Successful Enterprise.

Every man or woman who purchased stock in the companies who are selling the Wolfskill, Porter, Providencia, and other large ranchos, will acknowledge that they never made better or safer investments. The demand for good land is so great that all large ranchos that are bought at any reasonable price, will certainly bring to the purchasers an immense return on their investmest. The same enterprising gentlemen who are so successfully managing the ranches above mentioned, have been fortunate enough to secure 12,000 acres of the best land in the famous Lankershim Ranch in the San Fernando Valley, only eight miles from Los Angeles.

The syndicate who purchased this fine property, are about to form a company to own, and subdivide, and sell this 12,000 acres. The first purchasers of stock will get the land at $65 per acre by subscribing for the stock at $100 per share on very easy terms.

The sale of stock will begin Tuesday, August 2ne, at the offices of BYRAM & POINDEXTER, 27 West First Street, and BURCH & BOAL, 136 West First Street.

The names of Dan McFarland, L. T. Garnsey, F. T. Garbutt, S. B. Hunt, S. W. Luitweiler, C. J. Ellis, Clifford Evans, R. P. Shaw, E. A. Forrester, and others who are connected with this enterprise, are a sufficient guarantee of its good faith and success

Nasal Catarrh

Treated upon a new principle, founded upon the fact that the disease is parasitic in its origin. The parasites can be demonstrated by the microscope, and will present the appearance shown below:

(PARASITES MAGNIFIED 480 TIMES.)

This disease, which has proved so obstinate to the general practitioner, who probably does not cure five per cent. of his cases, is conquered readily by our new treatment. Over 2000 cases have been treated during the last three years in this city by this new treatment, and in fully ninety per cent. successfully.

Hundreds of references can be given.

Medical Inhalation Combined with Constitutional Remedies.

Our treatment of the diseases of the respiratory passages consists in the employment of Medical Inhalation, for its direct effects on the diseased organs; and, at the same time, adopting such hygienic measures, and administering such medicines by the stomach as will most effectually purify the blood, give tone to the nervous system and build up and strengthen the general constitution. In other words, employ combined local and general treatment.

What is medical inhalation? Before stating briefly what medical inhalation is, we propose, in as few words as possible, to state clearly what it is not.

Medical Inhalation is not a cure-all, a nostrum, or a panacea. It is not a specific remedy for any disease. It is not a quack medicine, advertised to cure any and all the ills that flesh is heir to, and intended to fill the pockets of its proprietors. It is not a talisman whose possession insures health to its possessor without the intervention of either sense or judgment. Medical inhalation is none of these things.

Medical Inhalation is simply and solely a method of taking medicines by inhaling or breathing them into the lungs, instead of swallowing them into the stomach. By inhalation the proper medicines are applied directly to the seat of the disease, in the nose, throat or lungs; and it is clear to every reasoning person how peculiarly applicable inhalation is in the disorders of the organs named. If you have scalded or burned the surface of the body, or wounded any limb or member, you do not swallow the remedy intended to heal the disorganized tissues' On the contrary you apply it directly to the seat of the wound or injury. Why, then, when suffering from catarrh of the nasal passages or throat, or afflicted with ulceration of the lungs, should you rely on medicines taken into the stomach?

Our experience and success in treating diseases of the nose, throat and lungs demonstrates, beyond all question, that the true scientific treatment of these diseases is that treatment which combines the local effect of medical inhalation with the constitutional effects of systemic remedies, given in the usual way by the stomach. One or both methods must be adopted as the circumstances demand, and such remedies must be employed as the experience and judgment of the physician have proved to be proper in each particular case.

CATARRH!

CONSUMPTION

Together with diseases of the

Eye, Ear and Heart

Successfully treated by

M. Hilton Williams, M. D., M. C. P. S. O

No. 275 Main Street,

A Few Doors South of the New Postoffice

LOS ANGELES, CAL.

All diseases of the respiratory organ treated by the most Improved Medicated Inhalations, combined with proper constitutional remedies for the liver, stomach, blood, etc.

Probably no system of practice ever adopted has been so universally successful as that introduced by Dr. Williams for the cure of Catarrh, Throat Diseases, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

Over 75,000 cases treated during the past twenty years for some form of head, throat or lung trouble.

CATARRH

To those who are afflicted with any of the different forms of Catarrh, we would say, there is no disease which presents a greater diversity of symptoms, none more loathsome insidious and dangerous than Nasal Catarrh, especially if complicated, as it almost always is, even from its first appearance, with an affection of the throat.

From the earliest symptoms (which are generally attributed to a "cold in the head") to the various ugly and distressing stages through which the disease passes, the patient is hopeful of recovery, and rarely gives it proper attention until certain alarming symptoms present themselves, denoting unmistakably the rapid advance of the malady to the lungs. Indeed, so various are the symptoms that the presence of the disease is not always known or even suspected, until it has reached a stage difficult to arrest. The disease may or may not be attended by a discharge from the nostrils or throat, but there is usually present a morbid secretion and a frequent disposition (especially in the morning) to clear the throat, and the effort to do so is often, though not always, attended by expectoration; there is a sensation of heaviness in the frontal part of the head, and the brain sometimes suffers to an extent producing headache, vertigo and confusion; it becomes difficult to think clearly, and to concentrate the mind; the memory becomes impaired and the intellect enfeebled; despondency of spirit and an excitable condition of the nervous system. Such is the effect of the disease, and if to this train of symptoms (which not infrequently leads to to insanity or idiocy) we add many of the more loathsome physical effects, as cassies, or rottenness of the bones of the face and head, a most offensive smell to the breath, and corrupt, morbid and poisonous secretions, destruction or the serious injury of the sense of smell, hearing, sight and taste, we have a catalogue of horrors which would lead any person to make early and proper efforts to eradicate the disease from the system. Every case of Catarrh is curable if properly treated.

BRONCHITIS.

Acute Bronchitis is an inflammation of the mucous membrane of the bronchial tubes, and is one of the most common of the pulmonary diseases. It is a dangerous disease, as it prevents the oxygenation of the blood, and in many cases, particularly after it passes into the chronic stage, the substance of the lungs becomes seriously involved, giving rise to what is very properly called Bronchial Consumption. In the acute form there is a sense of tightness or pressure across the chest, with considerable wheezing, severe coughs and expectoration. This is at first a white glary mucous, which, after a time, becomes purulent. The patient in some cases is obliged to sit up in bed, the oppression across the chest is so great; the skin is clammy and prostration rapidly sets in, and in fatal cases there will be muttering delirium, coma and death.

Chronic Bronchitis.

Chronic Bronchitis is also an inflammation of the mucous membrane of the bronchial tubes. When a cold settles on the lungs the disease either ends in bronchitis or pneumonia. If it ends in bronchitis it usually passes off as a cold on the chest, and still the patient does not feel entirely well. He feels tired and languid, and is incapable of taking his usual amount of exercise, and experiences a shortness of breath with more or less warmth in the palms of his hands. Soon after this a cough appears, accompanied by an expectoration of thick mucus, followed by a hectic flush, loss of flesh and strength and night sweats continue, when the patient assumes all the appearances of having a genuine case of consumption. But this is simply catarrh of the lungs or chronic bronchitis.

In the later stage of the disease the mucus membrane of the larger bronchial tube softens, while in the smaller tubes and air cells of the lungs the mucus membrane becomes congested and inflammed. There are no cavaties nor tubercles in the lungs, but merely a wasting away of the larger bronchial tubes, and death takes place from obstruction of the bronchial tubes and air cells of the lungs. The patient dies from exhaustion and suffocation, being unable to expectorate the mucus which accumulates in the passage leading to the lungs, which in some cases is sticky and small in quantity, but more commonly copious, of a light straw or yellowish green. Oftentimes streaks of blood make their appearance in the mucus, and at times there is a disagreeable smell. Persons thus afflicted are very liable to take a cold, at which time the mucus becomes clear and frothy, and it is not uncommonly the case that the patient dies in one of these attacks

CONSUMPTION.

From consumers, "to waste away," usually applied to the advanced stage of lung disease.

The following are prominent symptoms in the first stage, and wherever any of them exist a thorough examination should be made, with a view to arresting the disease as shown to exist: There is usually a sense of weariness upon a little exercise, a disposition to remain passive and idle, despondency, often from no apparent cause, a peculiar sensitiveness to the effect of cold, and a breathlessness upon moving quickly or descending a hill or stairs, a slight hacking cough, with or without expectoration, excitability upon slight occasions, dying pains through the chest or back, or under the shoulder blades. The symptoms are more noticeable toward or during the night, slight fever in the afternoon, cold feet or hands, or, in many cases, blue lividity of the lips and roots of the finger-nails.

Constitutional or tubercular consumption is a common form of lung disease. The progress is slow, but if left to itself is no less sure. It usually begins with a dry cough. At first these tubercles are exceedingly minute, the patient not at all suspecting their presence. Gradually they develop into more active disease, and then follows the train of symptoms which leaves no doubt as to its true character. Sometimes spitting of blood or slight streaks in the mucus is the first indication of tubercular deposits, or it may be a chilly sensation in the back, followed by more or less heat in the palms of the hands, or an afternoon flush on the cheeks. The slow and gradual inroads of this form of consumption leave the stomach and appetite undisturbed for a considerable time. Finally, however, hectic fever and night sweats supervene, preceded by diarrhoea. Then the loss of flesh and strength becomes rapid, the chest contracts, the features sharpen, the eye attains an unusual brilliancy and the patient begins to realize that he is in the last stage of confirmed consumption.

Inhalations are applicable to all diseases of the respiratory organs, including catarrh, throat diseases, asthma, bronchitis, consumption, and thousands of cases can be cured by this mode of treatment when nothing else can cure them.

We would particularly urge upon our eastern friends the necessity of direct medication—Inhalation—as well as the most favorable climatic influences, if you wish to avoid the sad experience of hundreds of invalids who depend on the climate alone, as nine cases out of ten die in consequence of this very thing.

Persons desiring treatment by this system of practice can use the remedies at home as well as at our office, and which will cause no inconvenience or hindrance to business whatever.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless unless both lungs are seriously involved. Even then the inhalations aid us in dissolving the mucus and in contracting and healing the cavities which nothing else can do with the same success.

The very best references from those already cured
